Looked after children

We are required by law, to provide information about our pupils to local authorities as part of our statutory data collections, such as the looked after children return. This return will apply to any child who is being looked after by their local authority (known as a child in care). They might be living: with foster parents, at home with their parents under the supervision of social services, or in residential children's homes.

To find out more about the pupil information we share with local authorities, and the purpose of the data collections, go to <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/children-looked-after-return>

The National Pupil Database (NPD)

The NPD is owned and managed by the Department for Education and contains information about pupils in schools in England. It provides invaluable evidence on educational performance to inform independent research, as well as studies commissioned by the Department for Education. It is held in electronic format for statistical purposes. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and awarding bodies.

We are required by law, to provide information about our pupils to the DfE as part of our statutory data collections, V X F K D V W K H V F K R R O F H Q V X V D Q G H D U O \ \ H D U V ¶ F H Q V X V 6 R stored in the NPD. The law that allows this is the Education (Information about Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

To find out more about the NPD, go to <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/national-pupil-database-user-guide-and-supporting-information>.

The department may share information about our pupils from the NPD with third parties who promote the education or well-being of children in England by:

- x conducting research or analysis
- x producing statistics
- x providing information, advice or guidance

The department has robust processes in place to ensure the confidentiality of our data is maintained and there are stringent controls in place regarding access and use of the data. Decisions on whether DfE releases data to third parties are subject to strict approval processes and based on detailed assessment of:

- x who is requesting the data
- x the purpose for which it is required
- x the level and sensitivity of the data requested, and
- x the arrangements in place to store and handle the data

To be granted access to pupil information, organisation must comply with strict terms and conditions covering the confidentiality and handling of the data, security arrangements and retention and use of the data.

For more information about which organisation the department has provided pupil information, (and for which project), please visit the following website:

General processing

For any parent/guardian, visitor, or third parties who deal with the Percy Hedley Foundation we may also retain some information relating to you, for instance, your contact details, records of telephone calls, email communications and/or letters received.

As the data controller our legal basis for processing this information where necessary will be legitimate interests (Article 6 (f) GDPR), this includes being able to:

- x monitor external visitors to our premises to help assist any potential safeguarding incidents,
- x monitor CCTV images in the event of an incident or crime,
- x maintain and administer relevant records and systems, ensuring records are accurate and kept up to date,
- x to enable us to communicate with you and to fulfil your request for information or services appropriate to your needs to monitor and improve our performance in responding to your request
- x to process financial transactions
- x to plan and coordinate events
- x to ensure we meet any legal obligations

In all cases, we balance our legitimate interests against your rights as an individual and make sure we only use your personal information in a way or for a purpose that you would reasonably expect in accordance with this Privacy Notice.

Information will only be retained for as long as is necessary, in line with our Data Retention policy. Please see individual service areas for specific periods.

International transfers of personal information

Our main servers are located in the UK and we do not directly transfer your personal data outside of the UK.

However, information that we collect from you may still be transferred to, and stored at, a destination outside the European Economic Area (EEA), due to a limited number of third party systems that some of our services use, as follows;

Your rights to your personal information and rectification

Data Protection laws, including the GDPR gives you the right to access your personal information, subject to certain exemptions.

To request access to your personal information, please contact using the contact details provided below:

Email: dpo@percyhedley.org.uk

There will be no fee for any request we receive, however, we may require identification to verify your identity.

We will respond to you within 1 month from the date of receiving your query. If your request is more complex in nature, we may extend our response by a further 2 months, but will keep you informed.

You also have the right to:

- x object to processing of personal data that is likely to cause, or is causing, damage or distress
- x prevent processing for the purposes of direct marketing
- x object to decisions being taken by automated means
- x in certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data rectified, blocked, erased or destroyed; and
- x claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of the Data Protection regulations.

Any concerns should be raised with the Foundations DPO.

While we are mindful that the GDPR has introduced a new best practice recommendation that, where possible, organisations should provide remote access to a secure self-service system, which would provide you with direct access to your personal information. Unfortunately, due to the nature of the varied information we hold across our services at this time we are unable to offer this service.
